

SNAKES & LADDERS & BRIDGES & GARBAGE BHHHII AT PURA OF CANGGI 2/4

I assumed it was GEORDIE with a Tyneside affiliation, but our HARE of the moment assures me that the connection is actually Catalanian. So it is JORDI - the commonest Catalan name (J phonetically aspirate) - so what else do you need to know? You are aware of course that our HARE is also now BEER MASTER and to be accorded the utmost respect. I heard not a single complaint about the divine/scenic/spectacular trail that was set with COHARE STEPTOE, though BLOW JOE said it was not easy to ignore the piles of rubbish adjacent to irrigation channels. Ubud barbarians are to blame for chucking their waste into the rivers WOS and PETANU, the latter featuring largely on the run and, according to SOD'S LAW, crossed 2X2 times on both bamboo and elaborately fashioned wooden structures. Then there were the ladders - one fixture 4 or 5 storeys high of steel and utterly vertiginous: the other assembled and transported by the HARE to enable paraplegic wankers scale a miniature cliff. Most enterprising and thoughtful. And there was a snake - a good six footer rat-snake that slithered away from front-runners.

The PURA PUSEH of CHANGGI is a marvel of great antiquity dating from CXIV with far earlier Buddhistic origins. I hope you all took in the partly reconstructed (following the 1917 earthquake) main gateway that is solidly Majapahit, as well as the splendid guardians of the outer court resembling heffalumps with neck bells and stylised skulls between their legs. These are truly ancient. Then did anyone stop to examine the magnificent new rock carvings on my MAD MARCH HARE run? Or were all peepers on plates and bristols or hamptons as per bloody usual?

It was really WOODEN EYE who dominated proceedings postcursory as RA and elemental abater, though there was a slight sprinkling but no one noticed it under the massy crown of the ganggahan tree. CRYSTAL TITS put in another sterling performance while USED CONDOM (apparently) just returned from snowbound blighty with SNOWBALLING - how appropriate - was shriven by YWGMH, I know not why. It was the anniversary of the Battle of Copenhagen (1801) and Hari Besar Islam Permulaan Puasa - so what! ARE YOU? ON ON ON
