

Smashing shirt most creatively designed: read the small print.

Now you all know who SQUEAK is and there was SQUID who did the whole thing in wedding veil as depicted: and BUBBLE was there and about 50 other odds and sods - don't I mean Wedding-Guests - but it was all BLIND DOG's fault. "The guests are met, the feast is set: May'st hear the merry din."

Not so merry actually, but an infernal fucking din from the band next door - was this not foreseen? - so it was a wonder RA WOODEN EYE was prevailed upon to deflower a multitude of Wedding-Guests as well as welcome back a bunch of RETURNERS. YWGMH waiting in the wings was not unduly upset to hear HM SERIAL OFFENDER bellow SOCIAL DRINKING, nor was anyone else for that matter. so drinking socially became the order of the day - a good five kegs of PROST of which I was told four were gratis earned from previous intake as well as PROST sponsored bash in Sanur the day before - bloody great support from our brewers; BALI MOON also. No EAT HER or VD or CHLAMYDIA or SCREWDRIVER to entertain us today, but here's hoping. We usually commemorate the birthdays (and occasionally deaths) of important historical figures, and YWGMH let it be known to a small select circle on the fifth keg that on this very day day TROTSKY was assassinated (1940) in Mexico City. By means of an ice-pick elaborated STEPTOE. Rounded off the evening with the latter and SUNNY CHOCOLATE FINGER at Sindhu night-market and superb soto ayam, served by an hermaphrodite; highly recommended.

Crass commercialism time. If anyone still wants BUTTERFLIES SU says 500 will secure. GANESH in UBUD is flogging them I'm told for 1.5 mill - already a collector's item. And NO DEPOSIT's got a few BALI HASH in stock still for 200. It's a steal. Anything else? Not really, but renewed kudos and thanks to BLIND DOG and kin for putting on such a terrific show. Next week BEER MASTER will do the honours at Pura Hyang Tiba. Watch out for animules - elephants in the front and bulls at the back. ON ON ON
